

ROBIN MEECHManaging Director, Marine and Energy Consulting (MECL)

Robin Meech is the Managing Director of Marine and Energy Consulting, an independent consultancy practice focusing on the marine industry with an emphasis on the transport of energy. He is also currently chairman of the International Bunker Industry Association.

Robin has a particular interest in the marine fuel and bunker sector where he has undertaken assignments for ship owners and the oil majors, as well as independent traders and national oil companies.

He advises companies on environmental issues, purchasing strategies, organisation, new business ventures, credit insurance, logistics, IT systems and e-business. He has comprehensive experience in environmental issues, having been a member of IMO Steering Committee advising to the introduction of the global emissions cap in 2020 as well as advising the EU on marine emissions issues.

Robin is a co-author of the book "Bunkers – An Analysis of the Technical and Environmental Issues".