

Time (BST)	Segment	Speaker/s
11:30 - 11:33 (3 mins)	Welcome: Opening remarks to set the stage, introduce the event purpose, and outline how the session will flow.	Katharine Palmer, Maritime Lead, Climate Champions
11:33 - 11:43 (8 mins)	Keynote address: The IMO Secretary General provides global context on shipping's role in climate action and the pathway to the 2030 breakthrough.	Mr Arsenio Dominguez, Secretary General, International Maritime Organization
11:43- 11:50 (5 mins)	Video message: A message from the COP30 Climate Champion highlighting the international climate community's expectations and support for maritime decarbonisation.	Mr Dan Ioschpe, Climate High Level Champion, COP30
11:50 - 12:10 (20 mins)	High-level fireside chat: An in-depth conversation with senior leaders reflecting on progress in shipping's energy transition over the past four years, the "ambition loop," and the potential next frontiers for climate action.	Moderator: Tristan Smith, Professor of Energy and Transport, University College London <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Johannah Christensen, CEO, Global Maritime Forum Nigel Topping, Climate High-Level Champion COP26, Global Ambassador, Climate Champions and Co-founder, Ambition Loop

12:10-12:20 (8 mins)	Presentation of key findings of the 2025 edition of Climate Action in Shipping: UCL presents the highlights of the 2025 Climate Action in Shipping Report, tracking signals of progress and gaps towards the 2030 goals.	Domagoj Baresic, Senior Research Fellow, University College London
12:20-12:55 (35 mins)	Maritime value chain panel discussion: Industry representatives across the maritime value chain share perspectives on scaling zero-emission fuels, investment challenges, and enabling conditions necessary for shipping to meet its 2030 goals.	Moderator: Jesse Fahnestock, Director, Decarbonisation, Global Maritime Forum <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Supply: Barry Lavery, Global Head Green Fuels, Renew • Shipowner: Charis Plakantonaki, Chief Strategy Officer, Star Bulk Carriers Corp • Policy: Nikol Hearn, Head of Transactions, Namibia Green Hydrogen Institute • Finance: Nikos Petrakakos, Managing Director, Tufton Investment Management
12:55 - 13:00 (5 mins)	Closing remarks: Reflections and final takeaways, emphasising collective action and the path forward beyond LISW25.	Mr Jos Standerwick, CEO, Maritime London