

Maritime London is the voice of maritime professional services in the UK. Funded by 120 companies and organisations from a wide range of disciplines, working to ensure that the UK remains a world-beating location to base maritime related business and to conduct maritime trade.

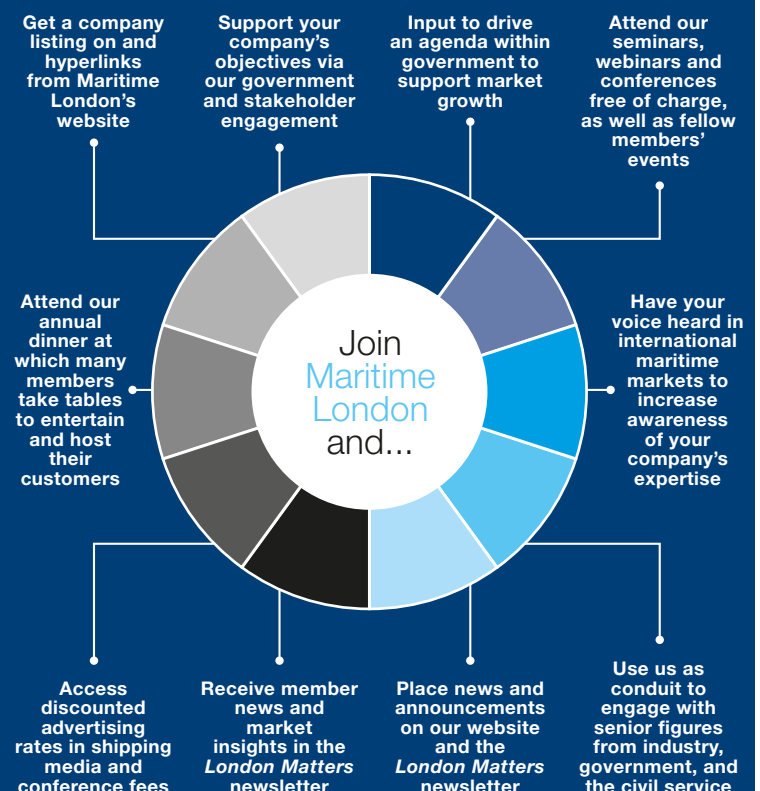

TO MAINTAIN AND ENHANCE THE UK'S PRIMACY AS THE WORLD'S LEADING PROVIDER OF MARITIME PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

WHAT WE DO

- Maritime London works with members, harnessing and showcasing their knowledge and expertise to demonstrate the strength of the UK maritime professional services offer.
- Maritime London works closely with leading maritime clusters, promoting the UK's professional services and attracting shipping and cargo interests to the UK. Maritime London hosts delegations in the UK from our overseas partners.
- Through seminars, conferences and working groups, Maritime London develops thought leadership within the sector to facilitate dialogue, best practice and innovation within our membership and with international partners.
- Maritime London organises regular networking events, lunches and dinners for our members and the wider maritime community.
- Through regular engagement with the UK Government, Maritime London represents the interests of our members, inputs into relevant Ministerial overseas visits and coordinates 'The UK Government Maritime Services Forum'.
- Through Maritime London's e-zine 'London Matters', our website and on social media channels we showcase our members and wider news from the UK maritime sector.
- As a founding member of Maritime UK, an umbrella body comprised of UK-based maritime membership organisations, Maritime London represents the interests of maritime professional services as part of the wider UK maritime cluster.
- Maritime London Officer Cadet Scholarship Programme (MLOCS) helps to channel funding provided by corporate and charity donors from the maritime services sector to young people wishing to become merchant navy officers.
- Maritime London is closely involved with the London International Shipping Week, with Chief Executive Jos Standerwick sitting on the Steering Group.
